carefully [illegible] on the table

Haines had taken [illegible] the amendments [illegible]

Cochran thought that more [illegible]

[illegible] said were made for the benefit of our state and its citizens

Fulton could not see anything in the bill that was political. It was only a subject for [illegible] It is a truth that [illegible] appropriated for the construction of a public building [illegible] to nothing

[illegible] the majority of this [illegible] political [illegible] in the senate he was [illegible] Thayer should have power to appoint the third commissioner

Smith opposed the amendment Like the little boy who wanted some medicine and whose mother was undecided about the matter, when the doctor told her it was very good and to give it all to him—so I do not want the democratic governor to have anything to do with it The democrats are in the minority in the committee so I believe the republicans ought to have the whole responsibility of this measure

Fyson did not think the amendments were good as the original bill stood without them

Sigglin—I do not wish to discuss the merits of this bill. As to the political complexion of course I know that the democrats are feeble here they are in the minority and cannot get on the committees unless the republican members put them there Well I am opposed to the amendments any way

Starkweather moved to lay it on the table until next Monday and that it then be made a special order of business for that day At present I am not conversant with the principal amendments so I am unable to vote on it

Colvig rose for information on the decision of the motion to lie on the table and to make the special order of business

Starkweather thought the words until next Monday after lie on the table was plain enough to be understood as to the question of the division After considerable discussion Starkweather withdrew—changed his motion to "postpone until next Monday."

Colvig was opposed to the motion of delaying the bill in this way The senate has just as much time this morning as any other time to examine and look into the merits of this matter There is a great deal of business that has yet to be finished, and it is hardly right to postpone this bill I am opposed to postponing this bill

Starkweather—With the consent of my second I will withdraw my motion

Colvig—I move that when the senate adjourn it stand adjourned until Monday

The president left his seat to speak to the senate on this motion Apperson of Clackamas temporarily occupying the chair

President Hirsch made some very neat and excellent remarks in favor of the adoption of the motion

Cochran was opposed to it.

On a vote the motion was adopted

The fifteen amendments to S B 4 were taken up and voted on separately

Apperson moved to adopt them

Smith moved that they lay on the table until printed

Apperson said that to order a bill reprinted after amended was without a precedent The several amendments were adopted

Apperson moved to have the bill engrossed and passed to a third reading to-morrow

Smith—Would it not be in order to have this bill printed.

Simon—When this bill comes up for final passage I will vote against it but for the present I am in favor of having it engrossed and passed to a third reading.

On a vote being taken it was ordered engrossed and passed to a third reading

Apperson moved to adjourn

Lee—Would the senator kindly withdraw his motion for a moment? I desire to introduce a resolution which I think very necessary

Apperson withdrew his motion

S. R. 14—That no bills except the appropriation bills for the current expenses of the state shall be introduced in the senate after the twenty-eighth day of the session except by a two thirds vote

Fulton moved to amend to include apportionment

The resolution as amended was adopted

Senate adjourned

House.

The house met at 10 A M Mr Speaker in the chair

Worcester moved to adjourn till 2 P M Monday next

Thompson moved that when the house do adjourn it adjourn until Monday at 2 P M Carried

Meyer from the committee on H B 1 composed of the Multnomah members reported said bill with amendments and the recommendation that it pass as amended

Biles moved to adopt the report

Minto said he was not prepared to vote for the adoption of the report as he thought the bill as amended took away the sovereign power of the state over certain lands in the city which had been given to the public at large

Yates said the only amendment was one which gives the city authority to erect telegraph poles to be used in establishing electric light The report was adopted and the bill made special order when it shall be reported correctly engrossed

Wilson moved that the vote by which the house decided that the next adjournment be until Monday at 2 P M be reconsidered The motion was lost.

H B 7—Fixing the time for holding terms of the circuit court in the second judicial district; read third time and passed.

H. B. 4—To provide for the organization of school districts in cities with 10,000 or more inhabitants, read third time and passed

Kelly of Multnomah was called to the chair, and the speaker asked leave of absence until Tuesday at 10 30 A. M., granted.

Bird moved that H. B 4 be read third time and put on its final passage.

Pipes raised the point of order that other bills had precedence

The chair ruled the point of order well taken.

Bird appealed from the decision of the chair

Hayes moved to adjourn lost.

The yeas and nays were called on the appeal and the decision of the chair was not sustained.

H B. 40 to protect the rights of mortgagees of personal property was read

Stearns moved to recommit, as the penalties provided in the bill for the removal of property from the county where mortgaged were too severe

The motion to recommit prevailed.

A motion to adjourn prevailed, and the house stood adjourned till Monday at 2 P M

OUR VISITORS.

SECOND DAY IN PORTLAND OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

Reception by Teachers and Children of the Public Schools.

DRIVES ABOUT THE CITY AND VICINITY

Grand Ovation at the Pavilion.

Desire to see the president attracted many hundreds of people to the city yesterday All trains and boats arriving were crowded These visitors with thousands of Portlanders improved every opportunity to catch a glimpse at the hotel and as the presidential carriage passed through the streets Early in the forenoon most of the party entered carriages and were driven about the city the coolness of the weather and excellent condition of the streets rendering riding delightful No special incident occurred

Visiting the Schools.

At 2 o clock a number of carriages drove up to the Esmond to take the presidential party to visit the schools As usual a crowd had gathered round the hotel eager for a glimpse of the president and the lady of the White House The first carriage contained the president the secretary of war Prof L J Powell, state superintendent of instruction and Prof T H Crawford, superintendent of city schools. The second carriage contained Mrs Hayes, Gen Sherman and Hon and Mrs J N Dolph the third County Superintendent I A. Macrum ex-Gov Gibbs, and Directors Wm Wadhams and John Wilson the fourth Mayor Thompson, Col John McCraken and H. H Northup Without delay the carriages drove to Harrison street school. Here the visitors alighted to the sidewalk and stood opposite the gate, while the children, commencing with the smallest marched down the steps by twos and filed in lines on the sidewalk, Prof Pratt made a short address eulogizing the public schools and asked the president to say a few words which would probably be forever remembered by the little ones. The president said

In behalf of Mrs Hayes, General Sherman Secretary Ramsey, and myself, I thank you for this great demonstration I don t know of any reception we have had that is upon the whole so fraught with satisfaction as this reception I am glad to see that this city which promises to be the great metropolis of this northwestern territory is taking such an interest in popular education

The teachers were then presented to the presidential party, and cordially received The party at the request of the committee then ascended the steps of the building in order that the children could have a good view of the president, their appearance on the steps was greeted with three rousing cheers President Hayes said

Girls and Boys I'll detain you only a moment, I'm sure you would like to know who are with you to day, and I'll you (Pointing to Secretary Ramsey,) That warlike looking gentleman is Governor Ramsey [Laughter He was the pioneer governor of Minnesota. He settled there when it was a territory, and when it was made a state he was elected governor He is now secretary of war It is not his business to make war but to keep peace and if you'll take a good look at him you'll see how eminently he is fitted for that purpose [Cheers and laughter] I'm glad to see that you endorse my selection (Pointing to Gen Sherman) That gentleman on the left with the blue coat and four buttons close together and two stars in his epaulets which indicate that he is the commander of the U S armies is General Sherman. This lady on my left (pointing to Mrs. Hayes) I got acquainted with 28 years ago and I guess you know who she is [Laughter] I beg to introduce Gov Ramsey

The secretary of war spoke a few words, which were well received.

Gen Sherman, being introduced said

I had no intention of making a speech I am glad to see your teachers imparting to you the first principles of a soldier, discipline Boys never believe it when any one tells you that soldiers make war The politicians make war Soldiers make peace Boys, always keep at peace. But if your country ever gets into danger be a soldier then, and not till then [Cheers] Our first president Washington and our present president Hayes were citizens in peace but when the country needed their services they turned soldiers. [Cheers] Allow me to bid you good bye

The children then presented a large number of handsome floral tributes to President Hayes and Mrs. Hayes and to the remainder of the party

The carriages then drove to the Park school, and as the executive alighted Prof Warren said Welcome, friend of education We are glad to have you here After a short speech by the president, and introductions of teachers the party drove to Central and to North schools, where receptions similar to that at the Harrison street were given. President Hayes made short speeches at each of the schools, and was loudly cheered The floral offerings by the children, some of them very elaborate, nearly filled the president's carriage

At every school there were hundreds of ladies and gentlemen interested in the reception At Central school the crowd in the neighborhood numbered nearly two thousand The best of order prevailed throughout, and nothing occurred to mar what was to the visitors and children alike, a most delightful occasion.

The Reception.

As early as 7 o'clock throngs of citizens of all classes irrespective of party, began to wend their way in the direction of Mechanics' Pavilion to pay their respects to the chief executive of the nation By half past seven the lower floor was well filled and by eight the entire body of the building was packed to overflowing and still there was no abatement of arrivals By a quarter past eight at least eight thousand persons, probably nine thousand, had entered and many of them had to find room in the new additions The galleries were kept free from visitors. At the east end the 21st infantry band was seated The west balcony was reserved for the president and party The pavilion was handsomely decorated with festoons of evergreens, bunting, shields and flags

At 20 minutes past eight loud cheers announced the arrival of the distinguished visitors who entered through the Second street doors and ascended the east stairs. The buckeye organization acted as escort to the president. Following is the list of persons who accompanied the president and took seats in the west gallery

Ladies and Gentlemen We ask your quiet attention a few moments (Addressing President Hayes) Mr President the citizens of Portland desire through Mr Dolph to express to you their appreciation of this visit of Mrs Hayes and yourself and the other distinguished persons of your party to this city

Address of Welcome

Mr Dolph advanced and said

Mr President On behalf of the citizens of Portland I welcome you and the distinguished members of your party to our city A visit from the president of the United States is a distinguished honor and situated as we are so far from the seat of the national government we feel duly honored by your visit We are pleased to have the opportunity of showing to you our appreciation of your services to the country and of your administration We your fellow citizens [illegible] night to take you by the hand and thank you that the trust we have placed in your charge has been so faithfully executed

No better [illegible] of superiority of republican [illegible]

[illegible]

West [illegible] to see our state to [illegible] resources and our needs [illegible] your journey across the [illegible] mountains and desert plains [illegible] a [illegible] comparatively unknown wilderness But what a change! Under the liberal policy of the national government in aiding internal improvements and granting the public lands to settlers one transcontinental railroad has been completed over which pours a constant stream of travel while others from both sides of the continent are pushing their way far into the interior carrying with them enterprise and civilization Carved out of the public domain under the operation of the homestead law, are half a million of homes. The then wilderness has become an inhabited country rich and productive region out of which have grown populous states and territories Mines of fabulous richness wheat fields of unrivaled productiveness herds and flocks cities and villages now occupy the places where then the solitude of nature reigned supreme

Still the resources of the great northwest are comparatively undeveloped. I might almost say unknown with a soil of unsurpassed fertility with a climate so mild that our flocks and herds depasture the year round with vast forests of the finest timber with water power in abundance with mines of precious metals and coal iron copper and lead all waiting only the hand of industry to add to our wealth and swell our commerce our great need is population to develop and possess the wealth which lies in profusion on every hand

Time was when it took six months for a letter to reach us here from the seat of government. Then came the overland stage line and overland mail, and we were thankful for that Next came the extension of the telegraph line to Portland and we rejoiced that we were brought so near the centres of the nation that we could know what was transpiring and feel the pulsations of its commercial and social life Then came the completion of the Union and Central Pacific railroads binding the Occident to the Orient with bands of iron and we rejoiced again We were brought nearer to the sisterhood of states nearer to the hearthstones to which so many of us were still bound by cords stronger than bands of iron But still we are isolated. Our position our resources our future development, the security and facility of government transportation, demand railroad connection with the east For this we hope and wait. We need railroad connection with the east to afford direct and cheap transportation to the overcrowded population of eastern cities and communities to enable them to come and make for themselves homes in our fertile valleys. We need liberal appropriations by the general government for the improvement of our harbors and rivers to facilitate our internal and inter state commerce. The government has not dealt with Oregon as liberally as with our sister state, California and with the other northwestern states. We hope this opportunity which you will have of seeing and knowing the extent of our resources our commerce and our inevitable future may so enlist you and these other distinguished visitors in our behalf, that the benefactions of the national government shall still be bestowed upon us so as to secure at an early period the realization of our hopes—connection with the great railroad system of the country

There are interests that outweigh the mere material interests of a state We have read your public utterances upon the subject of popular education For them we thank you For them every true friend of free institutions thanks you. It has become an axiom in American politics that upon the intelligence of the people depends the perpetuity of republican institutions It is therefore the duty of the state to see that those who are to exercise the privileges and perform the duties of American citizens shall be fitted to intelligently perform those duties. It is not the material resources alone which constitute a state, but

> "Men who their duties know,
> But know their rights and knowing dare maintain"

To-day you are the chief magistrate of a great nation But you are also our fellowcitizen In a few months you will have retired from the position of chief magistrate but you will not surrender the proud title the high prerogative of an American citizen And whatever may be your future whether the remainder of your days shall be spent in a retreat from the more active duties of public life in the enjoyment of the amenities and friendship of social intercourse, or whether they shall still be spent in the stern activities of public life, the American people grateful for an administration so distinguished, so prosperous—an administration in which peace at home and abroad has prevailed in which the nation has not only recovered from its financial and business depression, but has entered upon an unprecedented career of prosperity—will follow you with their benedictions

God grant that peace and prosperity may long continue to be our portion, that you may long live to see a happy free and prosperous country and your descendants and ours to the latest generation may dwell securely under the protection of a constitution and laws which guarantee to every man woman and child without distinction of race or color who owes the nation allegiance the equal protection of life liberty and the pursuit of happiness

President Hayes' Speech.

President Hayes advanced, amid vociferous cheering and spoke as follows

Mr President Ladies and Gentlemen I would be glad if circumstances had permitted me to prepare a suitable reply to the elaborate full and intelligent address to which we have just listened. But traveling as we have from town to town and meeting constantly with audiences who have desired us to say a few words, no matter how little considered or how hastily spoken I have found it entirely out of the question to make preparations for addressing the vast audience that has presented itself before me In reference to the favorable judgment declared by the speaker upon this administration I have only this to say that it has been from the beginning, is now and will be to the end my object and my earnest desire to so conduct public affairs, as far as on me depends to the best interests of all sections and all classes of inhabitants [Applause.] In regard to that portion of the address to which we have just listened which refers to your present and future all I can speak is language of congratulation The western coast of the United States has long been to me a favorite subject of study and consideration, and I can truthfully say to this audience that however favorable may have been the impression received from what I had heard and read of the Pacific coast, the observation of the past few weeks has confirmed this impression in every particular, You hold 1200 miles of the Pacific coast The people of the western continent control that part which is most fit for civilization and settlement. It has a climate friendly to labor and so belongs to just that part of the globe which is fitted for civilization I do not undertake to reflect upon tropical climates or frigid zones, but all history teaches that the best civilization of the world is in the temperate zones. You possess the best climate on the American continent, and in assessing that you have the best part, I think of the temperate zone on either side of the globe [Applause] In comparing your position with that of other portions of the American people I have been in the habit of saying that there is no difficulty in seeing that it will influence the destiny of our republic.

Here on this coast are a million and a quarter of people It should be inhabited by ten or twenty millions The people here are able to control absolutely the power and prestige which belongs to the Pacific coast. This statement I do not propose to argue or debate It is my judgment that the wealth is untold, that belongs to those who control the commerce of the Pacific coast. [Applause] Now I will enter into no discussion in regard to the population gathered rapidly here from all parts of the globe. I have that confidence in the integrity, intelligence and industry of the Anglo Saxon race that, they will forever control the Pacific coast. [Applause] So much in general Let us come a little nearer home.

You are citizens of the state of Oregon a state destined to be an agricultural state a commercial state a manufacturing state You have all the means convenient to make you each one of these three important parts of a great community In manufacturing you have of course not made great progress. I see in the lumber yards and work shops of this city evidences that you have already laid the foundation for this branch of industry A state that possesses the water power of Oregon can not fail in this particular Already ships from every important port of the globe find their way to Portland agriculturally, you are able not only to feed yourselves, but have a large surplus for foreign nations Oregon then has not long to wait, for the population which my friend Mr Dolph, wished for I was a little surprised when he ran over the sentence, that he did not stammer When I look around this vast audience and see the means for increasing this population [great laughter and applause, I cannot help but think that Oregon's last need is facilities for increasing population. [Renewed laughter and applause]

Passing over the United States to Oregon congratulation and encouragement is all that I can speak in addressing the citizens of Portland Standing to day in the cupola of the customhouse where I could see all parts of the city I must confess my amazement and surprise notwithstanding all I had heard about them at seeing your churches schoolhouses stores and dwellings and at the thought that you had accomplished what had taken other cities one hundred years in less than a quarter of a century My friends I can heartily and honestly congratulate you on the lot which falls to you and on the prosperous condition of this state and city A still more prosperous future awaits you

This afternoon it was my happiness to have the schools of your city exhibited before me They are the foundation stones of greatness which have been laid by you I feel safe in predicting, that Oregon and the city of Portland will for ever be remembered and regarded by the people of the United States with satisfaction and pride. Certain I am that to the latest day of my life I will recall with pleasure all the days and hours I have spent with you [Applause Ladies and gentlemen allow me to introduce the secretary of war Mr Ramsey

Mr Ramsey was received with cheers He spoke as follows

Secretary Ramsey's Speech

Friends and fellow Citizens I am not a public speaker and if I were I [illegible] say on this occasion [illegible] before me [illegible] when I return to Washington and am asked [illegible] would want no better [illegible] than a perfect [illegible] the assembly here to night [illegible]

[illegible]

for all our days [Applause] The [illegible]

[illegible] the waters of the Pacific to the [illegible] love of country

My friends you have a great mission to perform You have the most beautiful [illegible] I am not mistaken in what I have seen here to day in your [illegible] public and private, you have the proper appreciation of these duties When I consider how far away you are in your business from the rest of the American people in the extreme limit of the northwest with out direct communication with other states and when I consider your growth and improvement I am more and more impressed with the conviction that the Americans are a homogeneous people I say before you all that there never was such power as now exists in the republic of North America. We are extinguishing the national debt at a rate unknown in all history We are a people whose education is well cared for we are adding daily to our wealth our power our comfort and we are held in the estimation of the world as the greatest nation of modern times. This magnificent audience has made me more and more proud that I am an American citizen I feel in the language of the poet

> Breathes there a man with soul so dead
> Who never to himself hath said—
> This is my own my native land'

You have made great advancement during the time you have been here

Gov Ramsey here gave a short history of his own state, Minnesota and compared her advancement to that of Oregon He apologized for this local reference on the ground that he was better acquainted with his own state than any other He believed that the history of Minnesota's wonderful growth would be realized in Oregon when direct transcontinental railway communication was established

He concluded by introducing Gen Sherman who was most cordially greeted

Gen Sherman's Speech.

Friends and Fellow Countrymen I wish every one of you were in my place so that you could see this great audience and understand that it is impossible to make your voice heard by one-third of the assemblage. One would have to have a trumpet or signal flag to make himself understood [Laughter.] Sometimes occasions arise when one finds words inadequate to express his feelings This is to me such an occasion I am rejoiced that you have turned out in such large numbers to look at us here in the gallery to see the president of the United States, who has come 4000 miles to see you and who will carry back to the center of government, accounts of your prosperity I shall not detain you long, as only a few can hear me at this distance I can assure you that nothing in the world gives me more pleasure than witnessing the progress of your state I have been four times across this country I came here ten years ago and again three years ago. I came across the route of the Northern Pacific railroad from Duluth to this city I believe that every man, woman and child in Oregon should do their best to complete that road Every mile along its line is susceptible of cultivation, and possesses agricultural and mineral resources far superior to the land bordering the transcontinental road from Omaha to San Francisco It should be the first and foremost object of Oregon and Washington Territory to complete the connecting link and I hope the next time I come to Oregon I shall come by that road [Applause.] We all know what the president has expressed of your beautiful city What a few years ago was a forest abounds now with fruit blossoms with flowers is adorned with beautiful homes, is enriched with costly warehouses and stores pleases the eye delights the fancy and contributes to the happiness of mankind [Applause]

I wish though, you would do one thing for the able officer who used to regulate our weather in the east has passed from us. We cannot recall him I wish some one of you would remove that cloud from Mt. Hood. [Laughter.] I would give a handsome sum to the accomplishment of that object. We saw Shasta in all its glory Oh! that was a sight to behold, I feel disappointed after bringing President Hayes all the way from Washington not to be able to show him your magnificent Mt. Hood. If I could I would be happy [Applause]

The band then rendered the "Star Spangled Banner after which Gen Sherman advanced and said

And now the pleasantest part of the programme is alloted to me It is my pleasant office to present to you a lady who has traveled with us from Washington here and who at all times has been cheerful and bright in the cabin of the poor as well as in the palace of the rich—you all know to whom I refer, Mrs. President Hayes.

Mrs. Hayes advanced amid tumultuous cheering and bowed her acknowledgements

The crowd then entered the gallery by the east stairway, passed to the west gallery and were presented to the president and party the ceremony lasting more than an hour

Notes.

As the carriages passed No 3's engine house on their tour of the schools the boys drew their engine to the sidewalk and saluted the party with a series of whistles

Late Thursday evening the singing sections of the Turn Verein and Verein Eintracht serenaded the president at the Esmond He acknowledged the compliment in suitable words

Presidential Movements.

This afternoon President Hayes, Mrs Hayes and General Sherman will visit Vancouver, where they will remain over Sunday as guests of General Howard It is the present intention of the president and his party to start up the Columbia next Monday proceeding as far as Walla Walla.

A DISTRESSING STORY

Told by a Dying Man—His Sufferings at Memphis.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO Oct 1—Wm. Pannell of Chicago, was taken to the county hospital to-day and in such a condition that his recovery is very doubtful. He tells a story of terrible outrage and suffering According to his narrative he went to Hot Springs about a year ago and last June being only partially recovered, went to Memphis He was soon out of money and obliged to leave the hotel, and for 17 days wandered through the swamps about Memphis, occasionally getting a little help from the negroes. He finally returned to Memphis and being arrested was put in the city prison and kept for 40 days. When he asked for water the attendants would sometimes play on him with the hose, and when he cried out they shackled him to the floor. A negro waiter helped him to escape from prison, and while still delirious he was taken to the county poor house, fed on abominable food and maltreated in everything, and his condition rendered worse than before. After various wanderings and sufferings he again brought up in the Memphis prison where his persecutions were renewed Mrs Quinn of the Commercial Hotel taking pity on him finally secured his release and through the agency of friends here he was brought back to Chicago on Wednesday He tells a straightforward story and has an excellent reputation among those who know him

SATURDAY MORNING, OCT. 2, 1880

THE RECORD ON RESUMPTION.

A friend in Washington county wants to know to what extent the country is indebted to the democratic party for resumption. The debt is not great unless it can be said that the democratic party, by constantly opposing resumption and trying to prevent it actually helped thereby, through the rule of contraries, to secure a result directly the opposite of that which the party intended. On its theory of "fiatism" the democratic party tried to make irredeemable greenbacks the permanent currency of the country. It wanted to issue them in sufficient quantities to "pay" the national debt. In its national platform of 1868 it declared the debt so payable. The resumption act of 1875 was passed by a republican congress and was voted for only by republicans. The democratic party attacked it, opposed it, and ridiculed it from the day of its introduction in congress. Their foolish opposition to it was continued almost until the very day in which specie payments were resumed under a republican administration. They sought its repeal in congress, and by their representatives all over the union demanded its repeal; they caused their congressional committees to investigate all the proceedings of the treasury department under the act, for the purpose of discrediting the great undertaking; they filled volumes with speeches in denunciation of it. Having done everything in their power to prevent resumption and to prove that resumption was impracticable, they now, with characteristic impudence, are trying to conceal their record, and to claim the credit of this great financial success of the republican party. Only two years ago the democratic state convention of Oregon declared for repeal of the resumption act, and the declaration was strictly in accord with the position of the party throughout the state.

These statements are easily sustained by reference to democratic platforms adopted during several years past. On the 26th March, 1876, the democrats of Pennsylvania, in state convention assembled, resolved that, "The resumption of specie payments on the 1st day of January, 1879, is impossible to execute. It is a deliberate proclamation that at that date the United States will go into bankruptcy. It paralyzes industry, creates distrust of the future, turns the laborer and producer out of employment, is a standing threat upon business men, and ought to be forthwith repealed." The democratic convention of Indiana, held on the 17th April, 1876, resolved that, "The act of congress for the resumption of specie payments on the 1st of January, 1879, was a party measure, devised in secret caucus for party ends, and forced through the house of representatives, without the allowance of amendment or debate, under party discipline. It paralyzes industry, creates distrust of the future, turns the laborer and producer out of employment, is a standing threat upon business men, and should at once be repealed, without any conditions whatever." Kentucky democrats followed on the 25th May, 1876, with the declaration that, "In view of the present distressed condition of the country, we favor the immediate and unconditional repeal by congress of the act of Jan. 14, 1875, known as the resumption act." Iowa democrats in their state convention held in the same month of 1876, denounced "the law for resumption of specie payments as one of the many financial blunders of the republican party," and insisted that "it be at once repealed." Democrats of West Virginia in their state convention held on the 8th of June, 1876, resolved that "immediate repeal of the resumption act was required." The Ohio democratic convention held in July, 1877, declared that "As a means of relieving the distressed portions of the community and removing the great stringency complained of in business circles, we demand the immediate repeal of the resumption act." In Connecticut, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Tennessee, Colorado, Arkansas, Illinois, Missouri and other states, democratic conventions held during the years 1876, 1877 and 1878, passed similar resolutions. Democrats of Oregon, on the 10th of April, 1878, passed in their state convention a resolution declaring that, "We regard the forced resumption of specie payments as greatly aggravating the depression and distress consequent on a [illegible] of [illegible] and extravagance. We, therefore, favor the repeal of the act requiring resumption Jan. 1 1879." And the democratic national convention, held at St. Louis in June 1876, resolved that, "We denounce the resumption clause of the act of 1875, and we here demand its repeal." This record could be extended further; but we have probably given enough to show whom it may concern, how much and how far the country is indebted to the democratic party for resumption, [illegible] financial stability and prosperity.

Copy

That party, as the record [illegible] shows, opposed resumption in every possible way; denounced resumption in its platforms, tried to obstruct it in congress and falsely predicted disastrous results from it. This policy it continued down to the very day when resumption, under republican policy, became a triumphant success. Even as resumption approached the party did not perceive the blunder, as the declaration of the Oregon democrats, so late as 1878, plainly shows. The fact is the country is indebted to the democratic party for resumption in about the same way and in the same degree as it is indebted to that party for the abolition of slavery, the successful issue of the war, the preservation of the union and the adoption of the constitutional amendments.

The bill to provide for the erection of a brick asylum for the insane of this state was passed by the lower house of the legislative assembly yesterday afternoon. Its provisions in brief are as follows: The governor, secretary of state and state treasurer are constituted a board of commissioners to supervise the erection of the building which is to be put up on the ground belonging to the state near the penitentiary. The governor's private secretary is to act as clerk of the board without extra compensation. The sum of $25,000 is appropriated out of the surplus arising from the three mill tax provided for in the act passed in 1878 to provide for payment of the state indebtedness and expenses of the state government. The several county courts are also directed to levy a tax of one mill on each dollar of taxable property in the state, the proceeds to be paid to the state treasurer and to constitute a fund to be known as the state insane asylum building fund. Upon this fund the board is to draw for all moneys and the superintendednt of the penitentiary is to honor all requisitions made upon him by the board for any brick or other material made or on hand at the penitentiary necessary to be used in the construction of the proposed building. The contract for the erection the building is to be let to the lowest bidder, the contractor to have the use of convict labor at the rate of fifty cents per day for each convict. No time is designated within which the building is to be completed, but the commissioners are to undertake the work by advertising for plans immediately upon the approval of the act by the governor.

The bill to amend the city charter of Portland has now passed to its third reading in the house, with a recommendation from the Multnomah delegation that it do pass. It is proper to say that the intention of this bill simply is to pass the city government over to the control of a lot of professional politicians of the bummer sort for profit and spoil. By abolishing the board of police commissioners, and by electing the mayor in their interest which they hope to do in December next, they expect to gain absolute control of the police force and the general administration of city officers. This power is then to be used, first for the gain of individuals of the ring, and second for the promotion of a wider scheme of politics. This is an excellent point for entering a new wedge to divide the republican party. Expedients of this kind never redound to the permanent advantage of the party which employs them, and rarely to its temporary advantage. Of course those who are getting up this scheme expect to control the municipal election in December. Here is just where they are doomed to failure. The people will remember the authors of this charter job, and will have something to say about elections under it. And they will see that candidates of the ring which is setting up the job for its own objects and without slightest regard for the public interests or wishes, are not elected to carry out the plan. An appeal for party in such a case will have no weight whatever.

Many of the German papers of the country are presenting the issues of the present political contest with remarkable clearness. The financial and economic principles involved are especially discussed with an unusual insight by the German press. Thus, the Cincinnati Volksblatt, which has sometimes been claimed as a democratic organ, says: "The very fact that in Maine the democrats could obtain a victory only by their alliance and fusion with the greenbackers must open the eyes of the business men and demonstrate to them that a new danger is threatening public welfare which is more to be feared than the solid south. If the democrats are successful with the aid of the greenbackers, they naturally will and must comply with their requests and demands. They will not hesitate to do so, because the majority of the leaders of the democratic party is not alone unreliable, but thoroughly rotten on the money question. Every thinking man knows that in case the democrats should gain a victory, the greatest danger would not consist in their paying too much, but not in paying at all. The south is, to a certain extent, the home of the repudiation of state debts. A democratic victory would greatly increase and strengthen this disposition to repudiate, which gradually must ruin our public and private credit and confidence. Such a tendency, such disposition and views have chiefly prevailed for years among the democrats of the west, where they found their strongest support."

A reader of THE OREGONIAN requests information as to what proportion of the union soldiers were [illegible]. Perhaps no other test is so good as that of the vote of the soldiers in 1864. Certain states provided by law that their soldiers might vote in the field; and the following was the result:

States.	Lincoln.	McClellan.	Total.
Maine	4,174	741	4,915
New Hampshire	2,066	690	2,756
Vermont	243	49	292
Pennsylvania	26,712	[illegible]	39,051
Maryland	2,800	321	3,121
Kentucky	[illegible]	[illegible]	4,017
Ohio	41,146	9,757	50,903
Michigan	9,402	2,959	12,361
Iowa	15,178	1,364	16,542
Wisconsin	11,372	2,459	13,830
California	2,600	237	2,837
Total	116,887	33,748	150,635

This table shows that nearly four-fifths of the soldiers who had opportunity to cast their votes voted for Lincoln. It is only fair to presume that the like proportion would have been found among the soldiers from other states had provision been made for them to vote. And observe, too, that McClellan was more famous as a union general than Hancock has ever become.

There is a report that the entire Marion county delegation in the legislature intend to support the bill to give the Oregonian Railway Company the public levee of this city and the exclusive right—for it amounts to that—to use Front street and the foot of every street terminating on the river. Let us suppose that this matter be brought home to the Marion delegation, as it probably will be should this scheme succeed, by a bill to grant to the Oregon and California Railroad Company the ownership of Wilson avenue in Salem with Marion square thrown in. This would be a proposition exactly in accord with that now offered in behalf of the narrow gauge company. Of course the legislature, if it passes the bill now before it, could not refuse to pass this also.

Said General Grant in his Warren (Ohio) speech: "There is not a precinct in this vast nation where a democrat cannot cast his ballot and have it counted as cast, no matter what the predominance of the opposite party. He can proclaim his political opinions, even if he is only one among thousands, without fear and without proscription on account of his opinion. There are fourteen states where republicans have not this privilege. This is one reason why I am a republican."

Gen. Hancock's election would mean the swamping of the supreme court with democratic judges hostile to the settlements of the war and friendly to the wishes and schemes of the solid south. This would accomplish all southern purposes, and would be safer than armed rebellion.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

GRAND RALLY.—A grand rep bl or [illegible] the Young Men [illegible] under the auspices of the Young Men [illegible] will be held at their [illegible] publican club will be held at their rooms in the Y M C A hall on Tuesday evening Oct [illegible] The simple announcement that the young republicans would hold their regular meeting is sufficient to draw an enthusiastic audience, but the special announcement for the next meeting will attract [illegible] the great workers of the party but also the great mass of conservative thinkers of all parties. It is announced that Hon David Goodsell will deliver a twenty minute address. His well known reputation as a speaker is a guarantee of the excellence of his speech. Mr Goodsell will be followed by Hon J N Dolph who will make the speech of the evening. Mr Dolph s extensive political reading and sagacious observation coupled with his masterly delivery are an assurance that the hall will be jammed. Besides the two speakers the glee club that were so heartily encored two weeks ago will also be present with new songs and new music. The cornet band and other attractions will be on hand.

HANDSOMELY DECORATED.—The most handsome and appropriate decoration in the city in honor of the chief executive of the republic can be seen on Front street near [illegible] store of [illegible] The front of the building occupied by W J Van Schuyver & Co and [illegible] has been decorated in a very [illegible] manner Shields have been placed in rows on the front each representing one of the states and territories. In the centre of the row is placed a large shield which bears the name Oregon [illegible] strips of bunting hang between the rows of shields in graceful curves while a great number of small flags spread their folds to the breeze. To H D Sanborn belongs the credit of this display and that gentleman has certainly evinced a great deal of skill and good taste. The large brick building occupied by Alexander Bros also presents a very neat appearance.

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.—Yesterday forenoon about 10 o'clock an affray occurred on Front street opposite the store of Hexter & May which attracted much attention at the time and has been the subject of a great deal of public comment since. The actors in the affair are Rev. Dr. M May the well known Jewish rabbi, and Mr A Waldman of the firm of Beck & Waldman. Some misunderstanding of a personal nature arose between these gentlemen a few days ago, when it is said some hot words were indulged in. Waldman and May met yesterday on the street, when hostilities were renewed. Mr. Waldman struck Dr May twice in the face when the latter drew a pistol and fired twice at him. Fortunately neither shot took effect. Parties interfered and separated the belligerents. Subsequently both Waldman and May were arrested by Constable Sprague.

Surprise Party

The Hall street Methodist parsonage was the scene of a very pleasant surprise party to the pastor last Wednesday evening. At [illegible] a large number of members of the church and congregation came in and took possession and passed the evening in a pleasant social way. All seemed to enjoy themselves quite well. Mr and Mrs Judy were highly pleased at the expression of friendship and regard and will long remember the occasion with unalloyed pleasure.

Children of the Home Entertainment

Wednesday afternoon the children of the Home were entertained royally at the residence of Mrs J N Dolph by that very estimable lady. Carriages were sent to the Home early in the afternoon and the little folks to the number of 22 were conveyed to Mrs Dolph s residence. A splendid lunch was spread to which the juvenile guests did ample justice. After lunch the children indulged in a good hearty romp about the pleasant grounds. Later in the afternoon they were sent back to the Home in carriages. It was a delightful affair to the children and will long be held in remembrance by the recipients of Mrs. Dolph s generous hospitality.

Crystal Wedding.

Wednesday evening Mr A N Gambell and wife celebrated their crystal wedding at their residence, Seventh and College streets. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Gambell and their children—Master Willie, Miss Ollie, Miss Lizzie, Miss Susie—the following friends were present: Mr and Mrs Whalley, Mr and Mrs. R Arnold, Mrs. Morris, Miss Church, Mrs Torrey, Mr and Mrs. Knight, Miss Watling, Mr and Mrs. T L Riggs, Mr and Mrs Geo H. Himes, Mr and Mrs J H Gould, Mr and Mrs Price, Mr and Mrs J C. Olds, Mr and Mrs S D Francis and daughter, Mrs Anderson, Mrs. James A Smith, Prof R. K Warren and Mrs M B Millard. No effort was spared by the host and hostess to render the visit of their friends agreeable. Several hours were spent in games, social converse and music. During the evening several vocal selections were rendered by a male quartette composed of Profs. Reese and Warren, and Messrs. Brunke and Francis. Prof Reese led. One of the selections rendered was composed by him. At a late hour the party dispersed.

Good Templar Social.

On Monday evening the usual lodge exercises at the hall of Portland Lodge I O G T gave place to an open meeting in which a fine programme was rendered. The hall was well filled with members of the order and their friends, and at the close of the exercises a season was spent in social conversation, forming an extremely pleasant reunion to the temperance people. The social closed at about half past ten and being the first in a series planned for the winter is regarded as a very successful beginning.

A. O. U. W. Entertainment.

Thursday evening Unity Lodge No 25 A O U. W., gave its second social entertainment at Workmen s Hall. The attendance was very large. The first was a song "Waiting for the Tide to Come In" by Messrs. Whepler Gilliland O Neil and M Claire which was well rendered and received. Frank G Abell G M W delivered an excellent address. Mr Antone Lobe rendered La Jota Espanola, a fine vocal solo. D Solis Cohen read "The Obituary Column" following which Miss Hattie Summerfield executed a splendid piano solo. Miss Lolla O'Conner, read the "Charcoal Man," in a very pleasing manner and being encored appeared and gave the recitation entitled "Kitty Malone." In response to the second encore Lolla gave the "Danish Boy s Whistle." Miss Flora Abrahams next came upon the stage and sang in her remarkably clear and flute like voice "Waiting." It was a perfect treat and as the last echoes died out, the audience burst forth into enthusiastic applause and she was compelled to respond, selecting "Bird on the Wing" which was especially suited to her voice, and won her much applause. Mr Wheeler sang "The Old Sexton" and was applauded for his effort after which the first part came to a close with a song by the quartette.

The room was then cleared and dancing commenced which was kept up to a late hour.

It is reliably stated that the earl of Airlie is habitually guilty of—shall we say it?—eating with his knife.

Mr. H F Suksdorf will leave early next week for an extended trip through the Palouse and Spokan countries.

Mr and Mrs George Humphrey and Mrs Jerry Ream, of Eugene have returned from an extended trip to eastern states.

Mrs Larocque Miss Hattie Larocque and Master Eugene of Oregon City, left on the Columbia to spend the winter in San Rafael Cal.

The richest young lady in the United States is Miss Catherine Wolfe of New York, and she has just erected a home and lodging house for newsboys and other arabs. Her millions number about fifteen.

The young artist. Mr Clyde Cooke leaves next week for the eastern states and Munich where he will remain some time devoting himself to painting and availing himself of the benefit of the continental masters.

At a well known watering place in the east a lady changed her dress one day nine times. First she put on a breakfast robe then a walking dress then her bathing costume, then another walking dress then a yachting rig. After her return from a short sail she appeared in a tea gown, then a dinner dress a Casino costume, and at the dance shone in a superb evening toilet.

An American millionaire lady recently gave a breakfast to a select number of American friends at her Trouville cottage, on the coast of France. The costliness of the table service and decorations reminds one of the Arabian Nights. Not only gold silver and priceless porcelain were used, but amber coral and precious stones were pressed into the service. Ices were served on crystal plates inlaid with uncut gems and wine and liquors sparkled in flasks of amber or were contained in flagons of gold cloisonne and enamel.

The Religion of Charles Dickens

There is a very laudable, and by no means meager interest among our young people in literary matters and a general desire in a quiet way to advance with the great world in the quest for the laurels of peace.

A select audience gathered in the rooms of the Alpha Literary Society the parlors of Taylor street M. E. church on Wednesday evening to listen to the excellent essay of Mr A. E. McCulsky upon "The Religion of Dickens." Mr McCulsky has evidently given the subject very careful study and his audience listened with keenest interest to his lecture, which occupied [illegible] hour in its delivery.

The speaker described the desolate and unhappy childhood of the novelist and spoke eloquently upon the many pathetic scenes and characters which were so truly drawn by "Boz." His own melancholy experience reappear in many of the lowly children whom he portrays.

All his writings breathe a deep sympathy with the unfortunate and a great desire to comfort the poor and the distressed.

At great length the lecturer traced the religious [illegible] that pervaded all the writings of the famous author of the "Christmas Carol," bringing proof upon proof of Dickens' firm faith in the Christian religion, and his freedom from all sectarianism.

Several of the most pathetic and tender passages [illegible] the death of Little Joe from Bleak House [illegible] were recited by the speaker in a most impressive manner.

The popular evils against which many of Dickens' powerful novels were written were shown vividly by the speaker, and the good results of the author's labors for the friendless poor of England also [illegible].

The lecture was concluded by an enthusiastic tribute to the great genius, now gone to his long home, but his teachings will remain for ever the heritage of all the nations that speak the English language.

At the close of the lecture Mr McCulsky was warmly congratulated by his audience, many of whom desire a repetition of the lecture at an early date. Miss Ada N [illegible] and Miss [illegible] entertained the company with excellent music.

The Alpha Literary society opened its season's work on Wednesday evening last quite informally, the exercises of the occasion being music and an excellent lecture upon "Dickens' Religion" as shown forth in his writings by the president A. E. McCulsky. The Alpha society begins its seventh year with a large membership and good prospects [illegible] pleasant and useful series of literary meetings which occur weekly in the parlors of Taylor street church.

The Liverpool wheat market is reported to be advancing, but it is not probable that prices here will gain by the movement, shipowners being in a situation to consume the advantage. The local market continues inactive at $1 35 per cental.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following special report of the real estate market is furnished THE OREGONIAN by Clark & Upton, real estate agents and architects:

A good business above the average has been done during the past week. The confidence which has been steadily growing in the public mind suffers no diminution. The apparent certainty that the wealth, commercial importance and population of Portland will continue to increase with the increase of facilities of travel and transport to the interior, is beginning to make itself felt even by the most cautious of capitalists. Many who have hitherto preferred to loan on mortgages now elect to become owners and collect rents in lieu of interest, believing they see equal security and greater profit in the latter method.

The building trade continues active and competent mechanics in all departments find full employment. Rumor speaks confidently of more extensive building operations to be commenced early in the coming year than have ever been undertaken before in one year in Portland.

The value of real estate dealt in as shown on the face of deeds recorded during the past week is $66,308 84, the number 30, of these 14 were city properties, 10 country and suburban, 3 East Portland, 1 Albina and 2 U. S. patents.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—Freight market returns are unchanged, shippers holding off rather than pay the rates demanded by the only line that has a ship in berth. This applies to fresh offerings, although attempts have been made to take advantage of old engagements. Rates are very firm with upward tendency, owing to scarcity of tonnage on berth, but the movement in consequence is small. Suitable ships for this trade are scarce and held far above the views of agents. No further charters have been effected. Steamer freights are very dull indeed and the departures of to-day had very light cargoes for California.

Charters at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Ship H. P. Cheney 1822 tons, wheat, to Liverpool, £3 11s 6d, Cork, U. K., £3 15s 20 lay days.

IT SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE.

That a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., should make so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hop Bitters do, but when old and young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor, all testify to having been cured by them, you must believe and try them yourself, and doubt no longer. DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast,

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—No. 63 First street, between Oak and Pine. Office Hours—From 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

45 Years Before the Public.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

OFFICE OF THE

PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

OF CALIFORNIA.

SACRAMENTO, July 1st, 1880.

To all Desirous of Securing the Benefits of Life Insurance:

The first consideration with applicants for life insurance is, or at least should be, SAFETY. Will the Money Paid out for the Policy be Prudently Invested? Are the Affairs of the Company Honestly and Efficiently Administered? When the Policy Becomes a Claim, will it be Promptly Paid, and thus the object which induced the payment of the premiums be fully attained? These are queries naturally suggested, and the character of the answers determines the course of the questioner and the selection of his Company.

In this connection, the Managers of the PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY respectfully beg leave to submit the following facts and statements concerning their Company:

1. Since its organization, A. D. 1868, it has paid 353 death losses, on policies amounting in the aggregate to $902,975

2. It has Paid to Policy Holders, for Matured Endowments, Dividends, and Surrender Values, in Round Numbers, $1,000,000.

3. Its losses have been paid Promptly and without Litigation. No judgment arising from a Policy claim has ever been rendered against it, and it has no suits of this character pending.

4. It has repeatedly been examined by Sworn Experts, and most thorough and searching investigations, made of its condition and business, and IN EVERY CASE its Solvency and Trustworthiness have been Demonstrated.

5. Its Stockholders and Directors are widely known as among the most capable business men and ablest financiers of the State of California, and the integrity of their management is unquestioned.

6. The laws of the State including the constitutional provisions affecting corporations, are of the most rigid character, such as to make the Company one of the safest institutions of its kind.

Section 3 of Article XII of the NEW CONSTITUTION of the State of California, is as follows:

SEC. 3. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint stock association shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder, as the amount of stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole of the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint stock association, during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

7. Its policy contracts contain no restrictions upon residence or travel, and its forms of Insurance are unusually attractive. The Low Rate, Deposit Endowment, and Mutual Investment Policies are peculiar to this Company, and offer advantages to the insured which are not surpassed, if equaled, by those of any other Company.

8. When desired, Policies can be registered by the Insurance Commissioner of California, on the payment of a moderate fee; and a policy holder in the PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of California has then the absolute guarantee of the State of California that the money held by the Company against the contingency of his death is secured by bonds and mortgages deposited in the State Treasury. With December 31st 1879, the Company closed its eleventh year, and in so doing affords the only instance on record in which a life insurance company in the eleventh year of its existence was enabled to pay its death losses from interest receipts; not only was this done but in addition thereto a considerable surplus remained.

Believing ourselves entitled to the confidence and business of such as propose effecting insurance upon human life, we solicit their patronage, and pledge ourselves to discharge to the best of our ability the important and sacred trust devolved upon us.
